

Traveling Seminar in Overseas

Date	Place	Partner Organization	Students' Major and Grade	Participants' Information	SIT Instructor
2024/08/21 ~2024/09/03	Spain	Barcelona Architecture Center	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Department of Architecture Undergraduate 2nd grade 	(SIT) Students 29, Student Staff 3, Professor 2 (Barcelona Architecture Center) Professor 5, Staff 1	KOBANAWA Yoshihide(Department of Architecture), SATO Hirosuke(Department of Architecture)

Ceremony

3 courses of the School of Architecture jointly organized an overseas program in Barcelona, Spain, for second-year undergraduate students and 29 students participated in the program. The program was developed together with the Barcelona Architecture Center (BAC), and consisted mainly of architectural tours in Barcelona, free architectural tours in groups, suburban architectural tours, and architectural design exercises. In the design exercise, groups of three or four students worked on a facility of accommodation on a site of the coast of Barcelona, and all students gave presentations in English at the final review session. The task seemed challenging for second-year students in an unfamiliar environment and in an unfamiliar place, but with the dense guidance of the BAC and the high motivation of the participating students, all groups were able to complete excellent works and achieve their goals. It was a very intense two weeks and an exciting program for the participating students. □

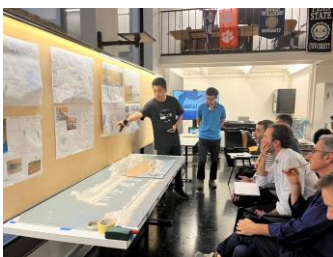

Lecture about Barcelona

Working place

Esquisse by BAC professor

Presentation

Tour Colonia Guell

Tour Barcelona Pavilion